Bishop Edward Gayer Andrews, D.D., LL.D.

Edward Gayer Andrews, in the order of election the twenty-seventh of the sixty-four general superintendents of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was born at New Hartford, N. Y., August 7, 1825, and died in Brooklyn, N. Y., December 31, 1907, in the eighty-third year of his age.

Of the eight bishops elected by the General Conference of 1872 he was the sixth. At the time of his election the following bishops whose election occurred prior to 1872 were living, namely, Morris, Janes, Scott, Simpson and Ames. Of the eight bishops elected in 1872 the venerable Bishop Bowman, the first upon whom the lot fell, alone survives. By the removal of Bishop Andrews, Bishop Warren elected in 1880 became the senior member of the Board of Effective Bishops.

Bishop Andrews was called from the pastorate to the bishopric though he had been widely known as an educator. He was graduated from Wesleyan University in 1847 and in the following year joined what was then known as the Oneida Conference. His first appointment was Hamilton, N. Y.; the second, Cooperstown, N. Y.; the third, following a transfer, Stockbridge, Mass. Leaving the pastorate he became a teacher in the Oneida Conference Seminary at Cazenovia, N. Y., afterward principal of the Female College at Mansfield, O., and later still, in 1856, he was chosen principal of Cazenovia Seminary where he remained until 1864. In that year he was elected as a delegate to the General Conference. His transfer to the New York East Conference occurred in that year and was followed by his appointment successively to Stamford, Conn., Sands Street, Brooklyn, and St. John's Church, Brooklyn. In 1872 he was elected Bishop as we have already stated and continued in the effective relation until 1904 or for a period of thirty-two years. During this time he held nearly three hundred Conferences, having never been debarred in a single instance by illness from filling his appointments. He visited our Missions in Europe and India in 1876 and 1877, in Mexico in 1881, in Japan, Korea and China in 1889 and 1890, and was sent as a fraternal delegate to the British and Irish Conferences in 1894.

"Year after year the respect and love of the Methodist Episcopal Church for him has increased. By his writings he has shown, in advanced age, power of description, distinction and emphasis which would have excited wonder in middle life. By his keen, prompt and precise recollection of past transactions and their explanations he has illuminated the successive bishops added to the episcopal college. In every capacity special to his office as general superintendent he has been perfect in preparation and swift and accurate in execution.

"Whether in organizing Conferences in foreign lands, representing Methodism before other Communions, solving problems of law for young ministers and laymen, debating in the standing committees of the Church with the wisdom of a sage and the quick perception of a youth, he has done that which should be done and omitted that which should not be done with a uniformity hard to realize fully except by the enforced contemplation of its cessation.

"The funeral services, held in the immense New York Avenue Church, Brooklyn, were worthy of the occasion."

His mortal remains repose in the cemetery at Syracuse, N. Y.
